

Services for alumni

LSE Careers is here to support you with finding work and progressing in your career after you have finished your course at LSE.

What services can you access?

All LSE alumni

All LSE alumni have access to our Resource Centre (Floor 5, Saw Swee Hock Student Centre), the LSE Careers website, and some exclusive careers subscriptions (lse.ac.uk/careers).

Within five years of finishing your degree

If you finished your degree programme less than five years ago you have full access to our services, including booking one-to-one careers advice appointments, events and our vacancy board (careers.lse.ac.uk).

How can you access these services?

You have to log into CareerHub (careers.lse.ac.uk) to book our events and appointments, and search our vacancy board.

Careers advice

Whatever your experience so far, we are ready to support you in the next stage of your career. Typical areas you might want to discuss could for example include career change, career progression, interview technique and CV preparation. Appointments can take place in person, via Skype or over the telephone .

How can you work with LSE Careers?

Be part of our Meet an Alum programme which gives current students the opportunity to talk to graduates about their career in a small group session, or write about your experience of work and share career tips on our blog (blogs.lse.ac.uk/careers). Please email careers@lse.ac.uk if you'd like to contribute.

We also encourage alumni to come back to LSE and participate in our events. We run a range of events throughout the year and these can help your organisation raise their profile at LSE, whilst helping current students learn about different sectors and careers skills. For more information please contact our Employer Engagement Team by telephone: +44 (0)20 7107 5293 or email: careers.employers@lse.ac.uk.
